TERRIBLE TORNADO

STRIKES NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE, AND IMMEDIATE COUNTRY.

Kills People and Destroys One Hundred Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property—Telegrams.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 13.—A dispatch from Nashville, Tenn., says that a tornado struck that city at 11 o'clock last night, accompanied by a heavy rain. Great damage was done in different parts of the city, and there are several casualties. The roof of Rhea's Elevator, the Burns block, and the Edgefield Manufactory Company buildings were blown away. A brick wall of the new Custom House fell with a crash from the third story to the cellar. The Merchants' Exchange was badly damaged; fifteen dwellings and twenty business houses were partially destroyed. At 11:10 o'clock the wind was blowing 40 miles an hour. Men were blown down in the streets. A man on a trestle-bridge was blown from it, breaking one of his legs. All the trains were forced to lay up, on account of trees and rails being blown across the track. No estimate of the loss is made, but Rhea & Sons are the heaviest losers, the unroofing of their elevator exposing some 20,000 bushels of wheat to the flood of rain.

A number of freight cars which were standing on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad were precipitated down an embankment.

The damage done in the city alone is estimated at $100,000, but in the country it cannot be approximated.

Several lives are reported lost.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—N. S. Prentice announced his suspension to the Stock Exchange this morning, on account of recent advices in the various stocks.

The Trouble Which Women Cause.

CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 13.—At Columbia, Tenn., —— Holcomb struck and knocked down Milt Carter, when Carter then shot Holcomb in the face killing him. It is said that Carter wished to marry Holcomb's daughter, and that the latter had forbidden the match, and ordered Carter to leave the town or he would kill both him and the lady.

Ex-United States Senator Dead.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 13.—Ex-United States Senator Samuel G. Arnold died last night.

KEARNEY BACKS PARNELL.

When Dennis is going Back to the Old Country.

San Francisco specials says Dennis Kearney on Sunday, in his first "Sand Lot" speech since his return from the east said: "Parnell told me that he came to America not to beg money to buy food for the distressed, but to get money to keep up the agitation and remove the cause, but when he landed in New York the monarchists cried Plenty of money for grub, but none for gab." Let the Irishmen in Ireland wake up and show to the world that they are not beggars, but men who must and shall be free; let them say that they are determined to have either the land, which is their God given right or the land robbers blood, or both. I want to see all moneys collected in this country handed over to the Irish Land League, of which Mr. Parnell is President; but it will have to come to the cutting of the throats of the landlords and when the throat cutting commences I am with them.

THE LATEST FROM CHARLIE ROSS

Mr. Ross Regards the New York Story as a Molehill Mountain.

Philadelphia Times.

A New York paper contained a "display-head" article, saying that the detectives in that city were working up anew the three-year-old Donglass-Mosher-Parker-Youshling "clue" to the abduction of Charlie Ross; that the detectives had daily consultations with Superintendent Walling and were working under his directions; that the "clue" would soon lead to the recovery of the boy and the arrest of several persons; and that a bulky letter, addressed "C. K. Ross, Philadelphia, Pa.," lay on the desk of Superintendent Walling's private clerk on Friday afternoon, and that the letter was mailed before Friday night.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a young man in the Port Warden's office, in the Commercial Exchange building, was asked if Mr. Ross, the Master Warden, was about. The young man replied in the affirmative, and went into a communicating room, the private office of Mr. Ross. He returned in a moment, followed by the Master Warden, who, being asked if he had read the article above referred to, smiledand said that he had.

"Have you received the bulky letter, Mr. Ross?"

"I have received no letter from New Nork to-day. Wait, let me look in my letter-box." Mr. Ross looked in, but found the box empty. "I do not expect any, either," he continued. "If such a letter were mailed, as the report says it was, I would have received it this morning."

"Has there been any communication between Superintendent Walling and yourself?"

"What was his question, sir?"

"Well, I don't feel at liberty to tell that, but I will say to you that it amounted to absolutely nothing."

The interviewer suggested that probably this ', inquiry" was the contents of the "bulky letter" seen by the New York reporter, and that some mistake in date had been made.

"Very likely," Mr. Ross assented, "and it strikes me that the New York persons have made a mountain out of molehill."

THE NEXT COLD SNAP.

Henery G. Vennor's Latest Prediction---A Big Snow Next Week.

Albany Argus.

The second cold period in February will reach us on the 22d, 23d, 24th and 25th days. This, it is probable, will be extremely cold along the valley of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa Rivers, Northern United States and to the westward. February will certainly end cold. The second heavy snow storm of the month should by my theory—come on us about the 15th and this bids fair to be heavy, with drifts and fairly cold weather. We have yet to get our heaviest snowfalls of the winter, and some of these are certain to extend through March. Up to the 15th the weather should be moist.

Yours truly,
HENRY G. VENNOR

Montreal, Feb. 5, 1880.

Mr. Tilden Annoyed.

A New York letter says: "Mr. Tilden personally, as well as his immediate friends, are excessively annoyed at the persistency with which the advocates of other presidential candidates within the Democratic party are representing that he is a physical wreck. These representations, they say, are based upon absolutely nothing which has the shadow even of a fact to sustain it. Yet as they have a malicious purpose to subserve, they further say it is but proper that it should be known that Mr. Tilden's health was never more robust than it is at this moment, and that his intellect was never clearer nor more active, in proof of which they refer to the vast amount of routine professional work of one kind and another he is performing every day."

Mr. Tilden Becoming a Physical Wreck.

Albany (N. Y.) Evening Times.

In a private letter to the editor of the Evening Times, a prominent and highly-esteemed Democrat in New York city, who is and always has been friendly to Mr. Tilden, says: "I have become satisfied that Governor Tilden is and will be physically incapacitated to be a candidate for the Presidency at the coming election. . . . You might as well talk about running Silas Wright as Governor Tilden. In brief, you may set it down as unfait accompli that Tilden is out of the race." This information comes from a source which we are not at liberty to mention, but the veracity of our correspondent is unquestionable, and he is one of the ablest and bestof the men who have sustained and adhered to Mr. Tilden.

Failure of the Potato Crop in Ireland.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—A special from London says: The Duchess of Marlborough writes to the lord mayor that there is no exaggeration in saying that millions have been lost in the west of Ireland by the utter failure of the potato crop. But for benevolence numbers must endure the greatest misery. Nor does the Duchess think that the fearful loss is entirely due to the elements. It is also due to the deterioration of the potato plant, from the fact that for years the best potatoes have been eaten and the worst sown. The supply of potato seed for next year must be an anxious thought to all, so that a harrowing recurrence of the distress may be prevented. Blankets, clothing, and cast-off-clothing for children are much desired.

Must Go Anyway.

Moore Index.

The case of the State v. Will Chavis went off the docket last Friday in a somewhat novel way. Chavis was indicted term before the last of our court for murder; being ignorant and poor, counsel was assigned to his defense who, after an investigation, found no evidence of even a probable conviction.

At this term of the court his counsel were asked to submit for manslaughter, on the grounds that he was too dangerous to be turned loose upon the public, and would be a heavy expense upon the county; this they refused to do. His Honor, Judge Eure, intimated that a submission would be the proper course, whereupon the counsel asked to be relieved of any further responsibility in the matter and other counsel appointed. His Honor did not do this, but ordered Chavis to be brought in, and without either a trial or submission sentenced him to ten year's imprisonment in the State prison. Chavis has gone exactly where we think he ought to be, but as to the modus operandi of sending, we must confess it is entirely new to us.

Grant's Legacy.

Philadelphia Times.

The late Adolph E. Borie, in his will, gives all his property to his wife, Elizabeth D. Borie, for life, with the power to use as much of the principal as she desires, and to dispose of the residue by her last will. In default of such disposition he makes a disposition of the residue, giving sundry legacies to personal friends and relatives, amounting in the aggregate, to $34,000, and including therein a legacy to General Ulysses S. Grant of $.0,000.

CONGRESSIONAL CHAT.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF THE 46TH CONGRESS.

Saturday's Session in the House for Debate Only--Confederate Soldier to be Appointed Army Officer.

HOUSE.

On motion of Mr. Forney, the Senate amendments to the Military Academy appropriation bill were non concurred in.

Mr. Wells, of Missouri, from the committee on appropriations reported back a bill making an additional appropriation of $135,000 for the support of certain Indian tribes during the present fiscal year. Mr. Wells spoke in support of the bill, and stating that if it were not passed there would exist great danger of the Indians going on the war path. The bill was then passed.

Mr. Frye, of Maine, from the committee on Inter-Oceanic Canal reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of the Navy for all the information and correspondence touching the International Canal now in possession of his department and not, heretofore published. Adopted.

Mr. Cover, of New York, Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture asked leave to report on the bill authorizing the Commissioner of Agriculture to attend in person or deputy the International Wool and Sheep exhibition to be held in Philadelphia, September next, but Mr. Beale, of Virginia, objected.

The Speaker then proceeded to call the committee for reports of a private nature.

A large number of adverse reports were presented by the committee on War Claims and laid on the table.

Johnston, of Virginia, from the committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill removing the political disabilities of Sergeant P. P. Powell, and authorizing his appointment as an officer of the United States Army.

McCook, of New York, supported the bill. The young man had served in the Confederate Army when he was between 16 and 18 years of age; though he (McCook) was considered a Republican, he would say that any man who had risked his life for four or five years in the service of the United States he should not be debarred of the right to promotion. The bill was passed.

The Speaker announced the special order for to-day to be a bill for the relief of General Fitzjohn Porter.

Bright, of Tennessee, raised a question of consideration, and moved to go into a Committee of the Whole on the private calendar. He raised the question of consideration in behalf of the multitude as against the individual.

O'Connor, of South Carolina, supported Bright's motion.

If the House proceeded to consider the Fitzjohn Porter bill, the discussion of which would consume a vast amount of time, it would be equivalent to slamming the doors of Congress in the face of every other private claim. House ayes 41, noes not counted, refused to consider the bill, and went into a Committee of the Whole on the private calendar.

The bill for the relief of Charles Clinton, late Assistant Treasurer at New Orleans, was reported favorably to the House.

The bill refunding to certain citizens of Lynchburg, Va., the taxes improperly collected on manufactured tobacco was passed by yeas 151, nays 39.

At 4:10 o'clock the House adjour ned. To-morrow's session will be for debate only.

Correspondence of the News.

MOUTH OF BUFFALO, Feb. 10.—Up 'til recently the weather has been so nice, that all who have taken occasion to speak of it have agreed that it has never been precedented. But now we have a considerable snow, and those who have the largest wood piles are the most comfortable.

Our past crops were better than the average, and grain of every description is cheap, but, sorry to say, I now know of two Government distilleries in the act of building, which likely, will increase the price of grain and greatly diminish the morals of our people.

Most of our churches have been enlivened with flattering prospects, arising from the many revivals which are characteristic of the season.

Our jail is almost crowded with banditti; but by the many advantages of the Inferior Court, we hope to get rid of six or eight in a few days.

Mr. Eugene Wag and Miss Mary Burker, of Jefferson, were recently married. A. H. E.

House Commerce Committee.

WASHINGTON, February 13.—The House Commerce committee took up the subject of inter-State commerce this morning, when McLane offered his bill as an amendment to Representative Reagan's bill, whereupon Henderson offered his bill as a substitute for McLane's bill, which was adopted. The question then recurring to the original (Tuesday's) proceedings, Henderson's bill was offered as a substitute for Reagan's bill, and after being amended on motion of Bliss, in several particulars, it was adopted by a vote of 9 to 6, and ordered to be favorably reported to the House, with the request that an early day be set for its consideration.

From Buncombe County.

Correspondence of the News.

ASHEVILLE, Feb. 9.—The weather for the past week has been what might be styled genuine Buncombe weather, windy and cool. The snow and sleet which fell one week ago covers the ground yet. But in spite of the ice covered ground there has been for eight days a punctual winding of a large part of our populace towards the Baptist church of this place. The attraction has been a revival meeting conducted by the new pastor, the Rev. Mr. Dixon, late of Chapel Hill. Quite a number of conversions have taken place, and on last night, Sunday night, the ordinance of baptism was administered to several. Cotempory with this revival service, and as some would say directly opposite in its nature, on Friday evening last might have been seen a crowd of sixty or seventy winding their way to a different scene. The place of attraction was the Carolina House, and the object of attraction was a "social party." A party given complimenary to the young ladies of Asheville in return for one given by them, styled "Our leap year party." The Carolina is naturally very attractive at all times, both on account of its hospitality and the character of its young and gentle inmates, but without any disparagement to its immediate inmates, I make no hesitancy in saying that the Carolina never rung so merily or shown so brightly before. It was a select crowd every one entertaining towards each other the noblest of feelings.

To-morrow night there will be held in the Opera house a concert, by the young ladies. Proceeds to go for the purchasing of an organ for the Methodist Church. COR.

ROMANCE IN REAL LIFE.

Story of an Old Gentleman Now Camping Near Denver.

Denver Tribune.

There is an old gentleman accompanied by a ten-year-old child, his daughter, living in a tent near the Colorado Central. This is rather severe weather for "camping out," but it seems that this fellow and child are reduced to this extremity, and from circumstances that would naturally appeal to the sympathies of the public.

The man's name is Amos McPeck, and he is from Fort Collins, where he has resided for about two years. In 1874 he lost his wife at Topeka, Kansas, and leaving his two daughters, Orpha and Florence, aged respectively eleven and five years, in the care of a woman named Mary Elkins, went to Great Rend, Kansas, to work. While he was here, perhaps six weeks after leaving Topeka, Mr. McPeck learned that the woman with whom he had left his children had moved away, taking with her young Florence and leaving the elder girl with friends. This was in June, 1875. It was two years from that time before the father succeeded in finding where his child was, and several months thereafter before he regained her. Being a poor man and of no trade or profession, his search was prosecuted under the greatest difficulties. It would sometimes require of him two months' labor to gain funds with which to vist a certain place where he hoped to gain information. He finally, after visiting places in Missouri, Illinois and Iowa, learned that his daughter was in California, and succeeded in reaching Cheyenne on his way West, where he was obliged from poverty and prostration to give up the pursuit. He went to Fort Collins and there, through the Masons, continued his search by letter, and ultimately found the lost daughter to be at Bell's Ridge, Cal. Thither the father went and did get his child and returned to Fort Collins.

But the anxiety and strain upon his physical and mental system had been so great that for months after his return he was unable to perform any work. He is somewhat recovered, however, and visits Denver in the hope that he can by some means have a history of his experience in seeking his child and that of the child while away from the father, written in attractive shape and printed, and by the sales of this earn a livelihood.

Maryland Legislature.

In the Maryland Senate yesterday Mr. Gorman made another extended speech in defence of the management of the Chesapeake and Ohio canal. In the House there was a long and exciting debate over the question of the abolishment of the office of tax commissioner, Mr. Bannon's amendment to the revenue and tax bill to this effect being finally lost by a vote of 38 to 40. A large delegation visited Annapolis and appeared before the city delegation in the interest of a modification of the Sunday law, and presented a petition with thousands of signatures. The Democratic caucus last night was a lively affair, and appointed a committee to consult with the governor and others and determine the course of action on reform measures before the legislature.

Blood, Water and Politics.

Indianapolis Journal.

Blood is thicker than water, but politics is thicker than blood. Representative Frye, of Maine, is a brother-in-law of Garcelon, Don Cameron is a nephew by marriage of Sherman, and Wayne McVeagh, leader of the anti-Grant movement in Pennsylvania, married a sister of Senator Cameron. Any of these gentlemen would sacrifice all their wives' relatives before they would their party.

A Preacher Arrested For Stealing

A special dispatch to the Philadelphia Times, from Erie, Pa., February 9, says: During last month six public schools were burglarized in Erie and considerable school property carried off. This morning the clue led up to Mr. Soydel Hill, of Philadelphia, who, when arrested, was at devotional exercise in the Young Mens Christian Association rooms. He has been identified as the seller of the stolen property, part of which was found on his person. He says he has been a preacher of the gospel. He was locked up.

LIVING WITH TWO WIVES.

A Romantic Story With a Peaceful Denouement.

Quite an interesting and romantic story was told to a reporter of the Pittsburg Post on Saturday. In 1863 there resided in Lawrenceville, Pa., a man, his wife and three sets of twins, which were born during their married life. One day, in returning from his place of employment, he was killed on the railroad. His family was left in comfortable circumstances. They remained in Lawrenceville and lived a quiet life. The children grew up, and the boys started out to earn a livelihood for their widowed mother and fatherless sisters. The eldest of the young ladies is said to have been very beautiful, and attracted considerable attention in the neighborhood.

A little over three years ago a man came to this locality, and, falling in love with the widow, he wooed and won her. Their union resulted in the birth of another pair of twins. Life flowed along smoothly for about a year and a half, when one morning the wife awoke and found her husband and pretty daughter missing. It was subsequently ascertained that the two had been married and had gone to Ohio. The wronged wife made no attempt to follow her spouse and his step-daughter, now his wife, but remained quietly at home. It appears that the married life of the runaway husband and his new wife was not a pleasant one, and a separation was agreed upon. The young lady returned to her home in Lawrenceville about two months ago, with a bouncing baby in her arms. Her mother willingly forgave her. Several weeks ago the husband of the two turned up in Lawrenceville also, and sought an interview with his second wife, the result of which was that the difficulty was settled and he was invited to visit his first wife. And now comes the most remarkable part of the tale. The man, his two wives and their children, are said to be all peaceably living in Alleghany under the same roof.

Philadelphia Times.

On Suuday night Christian Mueller whose wife had left him, it is alleged, on account of his cruelty, visited her at 1777 Alder street andasked to see her and then wanted the infant to be produced. When he got it Mueller threw the child upon the floor with great violence, injuring it terribly. Mueller fled, but was afterwards arrested, and upon a hearing before Magistrate Severn yesterday, when it was shown that the infant was in a critical state, was held for trial.

MAN AND WIFE.

THE LATEST CHAPTER IN A CELEBRATED CASE.

Mr. Poindexter the Slayer of Curtis and a Convicted Felon, Married to Miss Cottrell, in Richmond, Va.

Many of our citizens remember the circumstances, as published, of the killing in Richmond some time ago of Curtis, by John E. Poindexter. It will be remembered that Curtis was a salesman in a shoe store and fitted a shoe upon the foot of a young lady. This lady afterwards declared in the hearing of Mr. Poindexter that Curtis grossly insulted her. Poindexter then shot Curtis and killed him. The trial came off and Poindexter was sentenced to 2 years in the penitentiary; he appealed to the Supreme Court, but that tribunal has affirmed the judgment of the court below.

Great sympathy is expressed for Mr. Poindexter, as every one says, "he only did what any man of honor would, had their betrothed wife been insulted in the same manner." Tuesday night he was married to this lady—Miss Isabel Cottrell. We glean the following from the Richmond Dispatch:

"On Tuesday night Mr. John E. Poindexter and Miss Isabel Cottrell were married at the residence of Mr. John Alvis, on the western suburbs of the city. The event adds another chapter of pathetic interest to the history of a case which has become one of the most celebrated in our annals. For remarks about Miss Cottrell, which she thought insulting, Mr. Poindexter horse-whipped Mr. Charles E. Curtis, and two hours afterwards Mr. Curtis, smarting under the blows, attacked Mr. Poindexter with a walking stick, and was killed by him.

THE BEGINNING.

On Sunday morning, March 2, 1879, Mr. Poindexter got into his buggy and drove to the residence of John Alvis, near the new reservoir, where Miss Isabel Cottrell, an intimate friend, was living with Mrs. Alvis, her sister. He sent word to her by the servant who came to the door that he was going to his farm (near Bosher's dam, in the upper end of Henrico county), and if she wished he would take her to see her brother, who lived in that neighborhood. The invitation was accepted.

They drove first to Mr. Poindexter's farm, but halted there only a few minutes. Then they went straight on to Mr. Cottrell's. It was the Sunday memorable in Virginia legislation, when the Readjusters were filibustering, and when the House of Delegates was in session, and being doorkeeper for that body, Mr. Cottrell was in Richmond. His wife was also absent from home. Mr. Poindexter and Miss Cottrell, therefore, turned back to Richmond, reaching Mr. Alvis's about 2 p. m. Mr. Poindexter took dinner and tea with the young lady, and left about 11 o'clock.

MISS COTTRELL'S COMPLAINT AGAINST MR. CURTIS.

Partly on the drive and partly in the parlor Miss Cottrell communicated to Mr. Poindexter on three occasions she had had business at the store of Wingo, Ellett & Crump; that twice Mr. Curtis had insulted her with remarks about her feet; and that on the last visit to the store (Friday, 28th February) he had not only used very obnoxious language to her, but in helping her into the phaeton had squeezed her arm in an ungentlemanly manner.

Mr. Poindexter became very much incensed against Mr. Curtis, and declared that he would horsewhip him. He asked Miss Cottrell for some description of Mr. Curtis, which she gave, but without once thinking, she says, that he would execute his threat. Mr. Poindexter reached home somewhere about 12 o'clock Sunday night. He told his brother Thomas of Miss Cottrell's statement about Mr. Curtis, and it was arranged that in the morning John would go to the shoe-store and horsewhip Mr. Curtis, and Mr. Thomas Poindexter would accompany him to see that none of Curtis's friends unfairly interfered.

THE HORSEWHIPPING.

About 9 o'clock Monday, March 3d, they went to the shoestore, and Mr. Poindexter laid some six or eight blows with a whip upon Mr. Curtis's shoulders. Mr. Curtis made no resistance. He seems to have been completely dazed by the unexpected attack; but he denied that he had ever insulted any lady, and said if he had done so unwittingly he would apologize. He shook hands with Mr. John E. Poindexter as he and his brother left the store.

After the departure of the Messrs. Poindexter the consciousness of the immensity of the indignity put upon him seems to have taken control of Mr. Curtis's mind. He sought his young friends, Messrs. McGuire and Ellett, for counsel. After an interview with them (and returning to the store to say that he would be absent for some time) he started for the factory to demand an apology of Mr. Poindexter, and in the event that it was refused to cane him. Mr. McGuire went with him as his friend.

CURTIS SHOT.

Curtis and McGuire having entered the front office from Main street, Curtis went up to the window and asked Poindexter for an apology. It was refused. Mr. McGuire told Curtis to go into the room where Poindexter was. He did so, entering by the door which is to the left of the window. Poindexter saw the cane in Curtis's hand, and warned him that if he was struck he would shoot. Curtis said: "I am unarmed," and looked inquiringly at McGuir. The latter encouraged him to attack. Curtis then advanced upon Poindexter, and the striking and firing commenced. Poindexter fired five or six times. Curtis, having been struck in the forehead by the last shot, fell. Poindexter exclaimed: "I didn't want to kill the man; for God's sake do something for him!" A little later Poindexter was arrested and taken to the First station house. Curtis was found to have five wounds. He was removed from the factory office to the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. J. W. Cringan, northwest corner of Fourth and Franklin streets, where he lingered in unconsciousness until 11:20 p. m., when he died.

March 17th, Poindexter was arraigned at the bar of the Husting's Court and pleaded "not guilty." Three hundred men were summoned and examined on their voir dire before the panel was completed. Friday, the 28th, the jury being unable to agree, were discharged.

The second trial was commenced the 17th of April. Out of two or three hundred citizens of Richmond summoned, but one venireman was obtained. The Judge then summoned fifty citizens of Alexandria and Fredericksburg, and a jury was at once secured.

POINDEXTER'S REMARKS TO THE COURT.

Friday, 26th, the jury came into court and rendered a verdict of guilty of voluntary manslaughter, and fixed his term of imprisonment at two years in the penitentiary. Counsel for defence moved for a new trial, which was refused. May 4th, Poindexter was brought up to be sentenced.

When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced, he responded by reading the following, which he had written there in the court-room:

May it please your Honor, if I bowed my head to this sentence, and did not protest against the injustice of this verdict—a verdict which, if ratified by this community, makes this the first victim of a revolution in the traditional sentiment of my native State, that has educated me to believe that the defence of woman is one of the first duties a man owes to himself and society—I should be false to myself—false to every feeling that goes to form the strongest conviction of innocence in my own breast. No one more deeply deplores this sad and most unhappy tragedy, and the unfortunate circumstances that led thereto, than myself. My feelings will not permit me now, nor have I the strength, bowed down with sorrow as my heart now is, to go into any extended defence of my course. I do not claim to be faultless. I am but human, and moved by those passions with which God, in His judgment, hath seen fit to fill the souls of men.

As to the charge that I was moved by malice in taking the life of the deceased, I do, in the name of Heaven, again plead NOT GUILTY. Let me say it in the fear of God, and as I value my soul's salvation, I had no desire or wish to take his life; and every feeling which I may have had was crowded from my mind by the all-absorbing thought that my life was at stake, and the God-given law of self-defence alone controlled my actions. Willingly and gladly would I give half my days to return to his sorrowing sister and friends the life which lies on my hands, and raise from their heart the grief that no less oppresses mine.

I will say nothing against any one. I simply ask that that charity may be extended to me and others which I so willingly accord to all. Is it not enough, your Honor, that the very foundation of my life will ever be slowly frotted away by this deep sorrow that must accompany me even to my grave. This chastisement is surely sufficient, the bitterness of which no heart can know but my own. I do not complain of the number of years contained in this verdict. Sir, two are as good as twenty. Suffice it to say if this verdict is ever carried into effect, the sentence you are about to pronounce is a death-sentence that crushes out of my life all hope, all happiness, and only leaves me what man's law cannot take from me. I feel no sense of guilt or disgrace, but carry this verdict into execution, and, with my nature and the thought of those loved ones who are so dear to me, I shou'd be utterly crushed.

In closing, I thank your Honor from my heart, for your sincere and feeling expressions of sympathy.

THE SENTENCE OF THE COURT.

Judge Christian—his voice husky—said:

Mr. Poindexter,—In a life somewhat chequered, and certainly one enured to experiments of sorrow and suffering, I can truly say that I have never been called upon to perform a sadder duty than that which the law now imposes upon me as the judge of this court. God grant that the "deep waters" of sorrow through which you have been called to pass may yet in the mysterious ways of Providence redound to your temporal and eternal welfare, and at the same time deter others from incurring the terrible lot that has overtaken you, and, I fear, blighted a young life on which were reasonably founded so many hopes of happiness and usefulness. The judgment of the Court is that you shall be taken to the penitentiary by the Sergeant of this city, and there confined for two years—the period by the jurors in their verdict ascertained—and treated in the mode prescribed by law.

Poindexter was sent back to jail, and efforts were made to secure him a new trial. The Supreme Court rendered its decision January 8, 1880, and unanimously affirmed the judgment of the Husting Court.

A new trial being refused, a petition was sent to Governor Holliday for pardon of Poindexter, or commutation of sentence. The Governor refused to interfere.

THE MARRIAGE.

The prisoner, under custody of Sergeant Lee, left the jail about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night and proceeded to the residence of Mr. Alvis, near the new reservoir (Mrs. Alvis is a sister of Miss Cottrell).

There were present there a few of the lady friends of Miss Cottrell and Mr. Poindexter's brothers and a few gentlemen, including Mr. Childrey, Mr. Lyon, Judge Minor, and Mr. Royall.

Judge Minor gave the bride away. She was dressed in a dark-brown silk, trimmed with velvet and fringe to match, and made in simple walking-suit style. Mr. Poindexter wore a plain black suit.

THE COUPLE RETURN TO THE CITY.

Soon after the marriage ceremony, Mr. Lee, with the bride and groom, proceeded to the residence of Mr. Tyler, on Governor street, in this city, where Miss Cottrell had been boarding. There they remained for some three quarters of an hour with the brothers of Mr. Poindexter and a number of friends.

The parting was sad, but the bride bore up with wonderful fortitude, and did not show the greatness of her grief.

In her words of thanks, however, to Mr. Lee, hurriedly given as Poindexter turned from her and passed through the door, she could not withhold her feelings entirely. She said:

"I cannot sufficiently express my gratitude to you for your many kindnesses to my poor boy. He is now about to pass from your control. You can do no more for him. But we will ever remember you for the many kindnesses you have shown him."

Mr. Lee has received no instructions about the delivery of his prisoner to the penitentiary. Indeed, as yet the papers have not been sent down from the Supreme Court to the Hustings Court.

Mrs. Poindexter, accompanied by a little girl, went to the jail about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and stayed there nearly all day. During the time she was there several ladies and quite a number of gentlemen called upon them.

The bill introduced in the Senate by Major Walker of Chesterfield to exempt Poindexter from wearing the usual convicts' dress at the penitentiary, is still before the committee to whom it was referred.

The Professor--Where Is He?

"Conkling in line," shout the Grant boomers. Of course he is, but will somebody be kind enough to tell us where the little German professor is, and whether he can be depended on to do his work in the approaching crisis?

If the distinguished brass band bill isn't just summarily and silently sat down upon in the House, we look for some uproariously rich speaking on it when it comes before that body.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.

A CUSTOM THAT IS BY NO MEANS DYING OUT.

Cupid's Armory and a few of the Arrows Prepared for his Bow--Interesting Facts.

St. Valentine's Day, 1880, is at hand. There is no need of our going into history and describing how the good saint (all saints are good), came to have his birthday celebrated in the odd manner we observe it now. It seems that Valentine himself had a way of sending presents to the poor, on some day of each year he lived, and from that very happy custom, we suppose, came the practice of loading the mails with tender missives on the 14th of February.

Years and years ago old croakers denounced St. Valentine's Day, and declared that the silly practice could not live much longer, and that the custom of sending out valentines would die out. They said other cruel things, but it was so long ago that we have forgotten them all. But have their predictions come true? Have their hopes been realized? Look at the valentine show windows. See there the long line of beautiful and costly combinations and receive from them your answer.

The manufacturers and importers of valentines are not making the very expensive valentines this year, that is the $100 article, the highest price being $50, although any one feeling disposed to go higher can easily have the article made to order. The popular plan now will be to enhance the value of a pretty valentine by tying to a true lover's knot an engagement ring of choice workmanship, or some other gem.

A fifty-dollar valentine seen by the reporter was a striking consolidation of gorgeousness in tasteful array packed away in an elaborate box. The case of rich velvet had a gold clasp and a rare specimen of embossed work on the inside. The edging of the picture in the centre was of pure lace fastened at the corners with satin ribbons arranged in true lovers' knots in the centre, fastened down with a precious stone, sometimes a topaz. At the top, worked in silk behind Cupid's wings, was the "love message." In front was a handsome couple very near a floral cottage. The richness of the materials used and the difficult workmanship were the reasons given for the cost of the beautiful gift.

Ten years ago the valentines which now sell at $10, could not be purchased for less than $25. This does not argue that the custom is dying, but rather that the manufacture and goods are not so costly. The $10 missives are composed of laces, ribbons, embossed work, fine feathers, with the customary profusion of delicate paper work and the embroidered verses. White satin is used extensively, and the amethyst forms part of the decoration. There is little difference between the $10 and $5 valentines except in size.

A pretty design in the cheaper kinds of valentines is in the form of a card representing a child's face peeping out of a broken envelope bearing some quotation from the poets. These are sold for ten cents each and sell rapidly.

Of course the alleged funny valentines are out as usual, but there is a great improvement in method of designing them. The colors are less glaring, and the sentiment somewhat more refined, but there is yet room for improvement, for the "comic" is on the whole decidedly vulgar.

Positively Shocked.

Boston Transcript.

The Grant strikers are "shocked—positively shocked." It is alleged that persons in the service of the treasury department have been "working up," the South in Secretary Sherman's interest. They are "shocked"—that's what they are—"shocked."

An Even Thing.

The other day two strangers were toasting their shins on opposite sides of a big stove in a ferry wharf saloon, and it was noticed that they often looked at each other as if almost certain that they had met somewhere before. Finally one of them got up and said:

"Stranger, I've seen a face almost like yours. Did you ever have a brother Bill?"

"Yes."

"Was he a sailor?"

"He was."

"Did you hear of him last about ten years ago?"

"Yes, just about ten years ago."

"Stranger, continued the first, seemingly greatly affected, "I've sailed with your brother Bill. We were wrecked together on the Pacific, and before help came I had to kill and eat him. I knew you must be related. I'm awful sorry it was your brother, and though I was driven to it and the law can't touch me, I'm willing to pay you damages. Be kinder fair with me, for Bill was old and tough. About how much do you think is fair?"

The other wiped a tear from his eye, spat across the stove, and replied:

"Stranger, where is your dad?"

"Died in Nevada, didn't he?"

"Yes, out there somewhere."

"Well I killed him. I knew you were his son the minute I saw you. He and I were in a mine, and one day as we were going up in the bucket I saw that the old rope was going to break under the strain. When we were up about 200 feet, I picked up your old dad and dropped him over. It was bad on him, but it saved me. Now, you ate my brother Bill, and I murdered your dad, and I guess we'd better call it even and shake to see who pays for the drinks,"

They shook, drank, and the old lake captains who could not tell a lie had to sit back and realize how sad it was that they were born with such tender consciences.

The Richmond Capitol Fight.

Richmond Dispatch.

Messrs. W. W. Archer, Carter N. Harrison, and James A. Frazier were before the Police Court yesterday morning, charged on a warrant with fighting in the rotunda of the Capitol, and probably intending to commit a breach of the peace by engaging in a duel.

The court-room was crowded, and the examination was prolonged several hours. Mr. Archer was fined $5. Mr. Harrison was discharged, and Justice Crutchfield required Messrs. Frazier and Archer to enter into bonds in the sum of $1,000 each to keep the peace for twelve months. A number of the members of the General Assembly were present at the examination. Mr. Frazier was represented by Captain John S. Wise; Messrs. Archer and Harrison by Messrs. Thomas N. Page and M. L. Spotswood.

Rev. Hayden To Be Tried Again.

New York, Feb. 12.

A special from Norwich, Conn., states from an authentic source it is gathered that the Rev. H. H. Hayden, the alleged murderer of Mary E. Stannard, will be soon rearrested and tried again. The trial, it is expected, will be a short one not occupying over ten days or two weeks. Little, if any, scientific testimony will be used.

DAILY NEWS

GEO. C. JORDAN, Editor and Prop'r

SATURDAY FEBRUARY 14, 1880.

AT a meeting of the Cabinet, held this week, it was decided to allow Major Reno to resign. He will tender his resignation and it will be promptly accepted.

ALREADY petitions are before the Maine Legislature to restore the old number of Justices of the Supreme Court and to put back the salary to the old figure of $3,000. Last winter the Fusionist Legislature reduced the number of Justices from eight to seven (by the way that sounds natural), and cut down the salaries so $2,000. The petitions for the restoration of the old salaries come along so soon after the recent opinions of the court that "plain people" may imagine that they smell a mouse.

MR. TENNYSON is described by a correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle. "Nobody," says this writer, "would suspect him for a poet now. His face is strong and his eyes have a certain brightness, but he is seamed, rather than wrinkled, from forehead to chin; he appears to be puffy; he is partially bald; he stoops and shuffles; dresses ordinarily and carelessly, and has a general rustic mein and demeanement. He does not affect and never has affected genteel society, and the fact shows in his bearing and slovenly raiment." The correspondent adds that Mr. Tennyson has made such wise investment of his large literary earnings that his entire property is probably worth $1,000,000—a remarkable fortune for a poet.

THE great capitalists of the country appear to be seeking homes in New York city. The New York Herald is authority for the statement that a number of the wealthiest men of Boston are preparing to leave that city for New York. Only a little while ago James R. Keene left California and became a well-known figure on Wall street. D. O. Mills, another California millionaire, has lately purchased a handsome home in New York for half a million dollars. It is reported that Flood and O'Brien, the bonanza kings, are about to leave San Francisco and make the metropolis their permanent home. Other millionaires are credited with an intention to seek Manhattan Island. There is a fair prospect that in a few years a large part of the capital of the country will be centred in New York. That city has attractions which no other city on the continent has. No doubt its growth will keep pace with the growth of the country.

SENATOR BEN HILL, of Georgia, says that the reports of the discussion over the nomination of Simmons, before the Senate census committee, have all been erroneous. He says that nothing of an unpleasant nature passed between himself and Senator Gordon, though the controversy between the latter and Stephens was somewhat personal. Senator Hill said further: "Stephens and I both think Simmons did a very foolish thing in writing that letter; but, my heavens, we can't proscribe a man—an original Union man, too,—for saying that secession was treason. More than half the people of this country think that way. I am opposed to proscribing a man for his opinions on that dead issue of secession anyhow. I condemn the Radicals for proscribing Southern men because they hold that secession was not treason, and I equally condemn any attempt of Southern people to proscribe a man or say he shan't hold office because he believes secession was treason. Secession is dead, and I'm in favor of burying it forever. We can't afford to reject Simmons. That's my position. If we do, the Republicans will all say that a Democratic Senate, led by Southern men, rejected this man because he asserted his belief that secession was treason; and I tell you it will do us of the South more harm than all the Kemper county and Yazoo outrages."

THE PUBLIC WANT IN POLITICS.

The political events of the present year, already casting their shadows before them, are coming fully invested with significance to the American people, and not the less so to North Carolina as a State.

Always of absorbing interest to all, which political party shall triumph, it is yet a matter of more practical public concern that the State and the country shall be well governed. For our part we deem good government, State or National, impossible of attainment but through the success of the Democratic party, and we must therefore strive to secure for the party a policy of the highest possible efficiency, and in preparing for the campaign of our State at least, seek to present such issues and measures, and such men to represent them, as will at least promote the public good and assume the success of the Democratic party.

The educational and material advancement of the people of North Carolina are subjects undergoing the gravest issues that can be presented to our people, and those most likely to promote these are the men for us to choose as our representatives and rulers at home. The State has lagged behind other States around her long enough. Our politicians have been able and expert enough as politicians, but as public men, officials, they have not developed the business capacity demanded by the times nor the practical statesmanship our condition has required. We want practical business men of common sense, whose appreciation of the wants and necessities of the people rises above the plane of the mere politician seeking individual promotion, and whose knowledge of public affairs and understanding of measures for the public welfare can neither be measured by the tall stick of township or county elections, nor limited to the analysis and ascertainment of the possible voting strength of neighborhoods.

We want at the head of State affairs men who can originate measures of practical public good, as well as lay the plan of campaign; who can secure the co-operating influence of representative, leading men, in such matters of practical concern to the people, with as much facility and potency as they combine support of themselves for office.

We want men who cannot only manipulate conventions, carry off nominations, and carry the State, as flies carry the wheel upon whose hub they ride and revolve, but we want men in office who can comprehend every public need; who, in some sense can administer to every public want, or suggest a measure of relief; who, carrying the burden of public anxiety, are ever on the alert and always officially vigilant.

We want men in our highest places who can give us an efficient free-school system and originate measures for a vigorous support of the same, who can stimulate the spirit of public enterprise to press forward to completion our unfinished system of public transportation; whose conduct of public affairs shall attract attention abroad, and so recommend our State to strangers seeking places and objects for investment of capital, intelligence or energy, or all combined; who, combining these requisites for good rulers,—honesty, economy and competency in public administration, shall also possess energy and forethought, and the power to infuse the vigor of action into all subordinate departments, and thereby give to the public service the highest state of practical efficiency for the public good.

An Important Personal Item.

Charles S. Prentice, of Toledo, O., went to Paris and thence to England to be treated for Bright's disease, and after the best physicians of both countries had done what they could for him, gave up in despair and returned to America to die. Here he received further treatment from other skilful physicians without benefit, and while "listlessly lingering in pain and anguish," he says, heard of the Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, took it, and was completely cured in a few weeks. He gives circumstantial details of his painful experience and astonishing cure, in a long letter to H. H. Warner & Co., which will be forwarded on application.

A Down-town Merchant.

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all Druggists at 25 cents a bottle.

What Physicians at Home and Abroad think of the Seven Springs Iron and Alum Mass.

In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chlorosis, Anæmia, Nervous and Muscular Debility, Nervous and Sick Headache, Dysmenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Amenorrhœa, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder and such like organic or functional disturbances, I know of no remedy upon which I can rely with more certainty of satisfactory results than the "Seven Springs Mass."

W. F BARR, M. D., Abingdon, Va.

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Anamia, Chlorosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment.

GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D., New York City.

From my experience with the "Iron and Alum Mass," I believe it will prove the best medicine we have in use, for chronic diseases.

G. M. D. PATTERSON, M. D., Eaglewood, Texas.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the "Seven Springs Mass" seems to act with almost specific effect.

E. O. GRIGSBY, DeView, Ark.

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from druggists always mention Seven Springs Mass. Cuticura

BLOOD AND SKIN HUMORS,

The Scourge of Mankind. Old Methods of Treatment and Remedies a Failure.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the Great Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant, is the most searching, cleansing, and purifying agent of this country. It may be detected in the saliva, sweat, milk, blood, and urine in forty minutes after taking the first dose, showing that it has entered the circulation and been carried to every part of the system. It forever eradicates the virus of Syphilis, Scrofula, Cancer, and Canker, those terrible blood poisons that rot out the machinery of life, filling the body with foul corruptions. Taken internally in conjunction with the external application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, it speedily cures Scrofulous Ulcers and Old Sores, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter, Ringworm Scald Head, Dandruff, and all Itching and Scaly Diseases of the Skin and Scalp.

ECZEMA ON THE SCALP.

BREAST AND LIMBS CURED.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER: Gentlemen—I cannot refrain from ad ing my debt of gratitude to you for having placed within my reach the wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES, which have rendered unnecessary all further experiment of physicians, and in a remarkably short space of time have rid me of a loathsome disease. I dispensed with all physicians two years ago, believing they did me no good. The CUTICURA has stopped this unsatisfactory expense—even if it were necessary and I had the courage any longer to follow their advice—and brought the long-looked-for cure and happiness.

I have been afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum on my scalp, breast, and limbs for five years, during which time I have been under the treatment of physicians, or at mineral springs, or taking some kind of medicine. I have been treated by Drs —— of ——, Dr. —— of ——, and visited sulphur springs and taken numbers of patent medicines, all without the faintest approach to a cure.

April 1st last, I began the use of CUTICURA, which was immediately successful in my case, entirely curing me. I have not had a clean scalp for 15 years until the use of CUTICURA entirely healed it and left it clean and healthy. The other parts of my body were affected in a more aggravated form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the CUTICURA RESOLVENT as directed, for its wonderful action on the stomach and bowels and cooling influence on the blood. It will afford me pleasure, as I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

Yours, etc.,
STEPHEN CROWELL.
NEW BEDFORD, Sept. 30, 1878.

A RUNNING SORE

CURED IN ONE WEEK.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER:—Some three or four weeks ago I ordered a box of CUTICURA for a bad case of Salt Rheum. The back of one of my wife's hands was a running sore. In one week from the day it arrived her hand was well and has remained so up to to-day. E. P. DAGGETT.
MILFORD, ME., June 10, 1878.
NOTE.—Reader, don't you think these cures remarkable?

CUTICURA SOAP,

MEDICINAL AND TOILET,

Is prepared from CUTICURA in a modified form, and is positively indispensable in the treatment of Skin and Scalp Diseases. We recommend it for the preservation of the skins of infants, for gentlemen who shave and are troubled with tender faces, for those who desire a clean and wholesome Skin and Scalp, and for all purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery. Its delightful and refreshing fragrance equals or surpasses the finest Parisian Soaps.

The CUTICURA REMEDIES are prepared by WEEKS & POTTER, Chemists and Druggists, 360 Washington street, Boston, and are for sale by all Druggists. Price of CUTICURA, small boxes, 50 cents; large boxes, $1. RESOLVENT, $1 per bottle. CUTICURA SOAP, 25 cents per cake; by mail, 3 cents; three cakes, 75 cents.

Justice's Court.

Justice Barbee yesterday had Myers & Sons before him upon a writ of ejectment sworn out by Mrs. Keuster, owner of the store on Fayetteville street and occupied by them. The Justice sustaining the plaintiff, the store was closed and goods attached for rent. Mr. Myers afterwards gave bond for payment of rent and opened his house.

The Bagpipe Fiends.

The boss bagpipe band is in the city. There are about ten pieces in the "band," but only three "musicians." Two of them play a bagpipe each and the third fellow—well, he is a fiend of the first water. He blows a bagpipe just as the other two; but he's not content with doing one man's part of the work; he plays—or rather blows—a bagpipe; beats, no he hits, a big bass drum; sounds (yes that's the word) a pair of cymbols; knocks a tri-angle and rings a thousand bells, more or less, all at the same time. He does it with his mouth, hands and feet, but how, we can't tell you. You will have to see him yourself, gentle reader, if you are anxious to know. We will say, however, that they make more noise than anybody, and if they don't get away from here pretty soon, Raleigh will be be converted into a first-class mammoth Insane Asylum.

Mr. Doyle, one of the committeemen appointed to solicit contributions for the Irish sufferers, yesterday collected $57.50. If each of the twenty one committeemen did as well as Mr. Doyle yesterday, a pretty nice sum has already been contributed. Twenty-one times 57.50 would foot up the snug little sum of $1,207.50.

The following are the names of those who contributed to Mr. Doyle. We have not heard from the other solicitors: Messrs I J Young, George T Stronach, James E Boyd, T J Jarvis, Dr T L Love and E J Hardin, $5 each; cash $3, cash $3; J W Cole $2 25; W H Bagley and Thos S Kenan $2 each; Hon John Manning $1.25; G C Dudley, C C McDonald, F P Haywood, Jr., D H Young, W G Upchurch, W F Askew, James Briggs and M Kelley $1 each; cash $1, cash $1; J R Ball 75c; Joseph Kreth and Hon John M Moring 50c each; cash 25c, cash 25c, cash 25c.—Total, $57.50.

The Raleigh Minerva.

Durham Recorder.

We are indebted to Mr. N. A. Ramsey of this place for a copy of the Minerva for the year 1812, published weekly in Raleigh by "Lucas and A. H. Boylan." It was the first landmark of the press established in the young State Capital, and for years weilded the influence handed over by it to the Raleigh Register. Some of these days, if certain ideas now cogitating within us shall be perfected, we shall use the Minerva to a large extent; and in the meantime we renew our thanks to Mr. Ramsey for his thoughtful gift.

A Popular and Satisfactory Remedy.

For several days the demand has been so great that it could not be supplied; but to-day Mrs. Nelson will have on hand a large quantity of CHEROKEE INDIAN COUGH CURE. It is the very thing for whooping cough, as well as all other coughs and cold on the lungs. It is as good for infants as adults, and everybody tells their neighbors about its healing and curative powers. Address through the postoffice, Raleigh.

Yeargan, Petty & Co.

Are daily in receipt of New and Fresh goods. Latest arrivals are in part Raven Alpacas, Brilliants, English Bumbazines, (something new in black dress goods,) Prints, Bleach goods, Germantown Quilts, Cotton Diapers, Ladies and Misses' fine Shoes, (to all of which they invite the attention of close and discriminating buyers); also a large stock of Men's heavy Boots.

The reason why adulterated bakin powders make bread and biscuits very indigestible, is because they harden the gluten of the wheat and render it less soluble. The purity and perfect combination of Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder makes all articles easy of digestion.

Nerve.

Maud had a fine figure, good face and pretty name. One should see her at a distance. When she began to talk, you realized that she never used SOZODONT. Her breath was unlike the breezes of Araby the blest.

THE NEW FRYER.

This useful invention meets a long felt need for a more convenient method of removing Oysters, Potatoes, and other fried food, with greater quickness, and all at once, from the boiling fat in which they have been cooked, and allowing the fat to drain from them while they remain over the fire; thereby getting rid more certainly of the superfluous grease, the objection so often made of the unhealthiness of food cooked in the ordinary frying-pan is done away with.

By detaching the supporter, you have for omelettes and other things for which a drainer is not required, a deeper and better quality of frying-pan than has heretofore been made.

THE OVAL CAKE

is the most economical form of Washing Soap All bar or square cakes wear down in use to a large flat piece, too thin to handle and, therefore, wasted; while the OVAL CAKE of
